109 Heat Nears 30-Year Record

On Parched Land . . .

Disaster Status Asked

A team of three State Disaster Committee representatives toured drought-ridden Milam County farm land Thursday to determine if a disaster status was warranted for local cattle producers.

In late July the County Disaster Committee requested disaster status that would allow cattlemen to graze their livestock on government diverted acres. About 1,000 farms in Milam County would be aided by the agriculture department disaster ruling. The diverted acres would automatically revert to them on October 1.

Area agriculture observers said some cattlemen had already started supplementary feeding their stock because of a shortage of grass. Usually supplementary feeding is not needed until late fall.

HAY SHORT
A shortage of hay now is expected to become critical by fall unless some good rains come by September, followed by a late frost that would allow a second crop of Johnson grass.

Wally Edred, manager of Cameron Livestock Auction, said up to present they had not noticed any downward pressure on cattle prices because of the drought.

"Actually," Edred said, "in the last two weeks prices have started getting stronger." He said one reason that more cattle weren't being sold off was because a lot of cattle were sold early when light calves were bringing good prices. "We probably will be seeing a larger moving of cattle in the next few weeks if the drought continues," Edred predicted.

COTTON
Cotton producers and buyers agreed this week that the local crop would be about one-third of the total anticipated before serious drought set in.

Terry Hardwick at Cameron Cotton Congress said cotton bolls appeared premature and small all over the county, except where the crop was irrigated or had been planted early.

Perry Holder, owner of Farmers Gin, said most of the cotton crop would probably be picked in the next three weeks. He said showers now would not hurt maturing cotton and would help late cotton.

Ed Jeter, who farms three miles north of Cameron on SH 77, brought the first bale of cotton into Cameron Tuesday. It weighed 150 pounds.

CITY BAKES; RAINS SKIP AROUND AREA

Monday's temperature in Cameron neared the record high of 110 set in 1939 as it climbed to an official 109 degrees. The high reading was one of many such recorded over Texas and the U. S. Weather Bureau predicts more of the same.

The extreme heat is taking its toll of the county's crops and pastures, and is keeping air conditioning dealers, lawmen, and power service men busy. (See related stories, this page.)

Tuesday's 107 degrees brought the total of over 100-degree days to 29 for this summer and was the same as that recorded on August 12, 1962. That August was still "cooler" than 1968's, however, with 107 degrees the highest recorded.

Although the whole nation is experiencing hot weather, Central Texas seems to be having more than its share. Waco had its hottest day on record Monday when the weather bureau thermometer climbed to 112, highest in the state.

Tantalizing black clouds, a display of lightning and a little wind on Monday night raised hopes for some rain in the area, but the clouds broke over Bryan, dumping 62 of an inch on that city. Thunderstorms in the Temple area Tuesday night were accompanied by high winds and some rain, but Cameron has recorded no rain since a brief shower fell on July 15.

August water consumption in Cameron is continuing about the same as in July. The Water Department reported, July's water use reached a 49,167 millions of gallons pumped, nearly twice that of July 1968, when the Department pumped 26,732 millions of gallons.

A surprisingly small number of grassfires has been reported, considering the tinder-dry condition of grass and weeds. Fire Marshal Carl Black said people are being more careful than usual following appeals by the Fire Department.

'Little Merchants' Needed At Herald

The Cameron Herald needs several boys or girls between the ages of 9 through 12 to apply for "Little Merchant" status to sell copies of the paper each Thursday afternoon.

Territories are available in most of Cameron where two to three hundred copies of The Herald can be sold in two or three hours by hustling youngsters.

The Little Merchant pays The Herald five cents per copy for the paper and sells them at the regular ten cents per copy. Thus the boy selling 20 papers, which is a needed amount for some of the hardest working youngsters, nets $1 for half an afternoon's work.

Little Merchants from surrounding towns — Buckholts, Milano, Rogers, Rockdale, and Rockdale — are also invited to apply for papers under the arrangement.

BOOSTER CLUB

The Cameron Booster Club will sponsor the group's annual ice cream supper at City Park Friday, August 15 beginning at 7 p.m. The annual kick-off for the 1969-70 season is for all Booster Club members and their guests.

If "the wheels of justice grind small," the numbers of attorneys count large.

And the press of this country, ranging from Clifton Daniel, New York Times managing editor and one of hundreds of program panelists, to Chet Huntley, part one of the noted two-part TV news team, is active in surveying the panorama of American Bar Association's 92nd convention.

Air conditioned buses shuttle some 14,000 attorneys and their wives from hotel (and all are filled) to Dallas Municipal Auditorium and various points of interest in endless departure and arrival.

Officially, the program ends today, August 14, after four days of more than 100 agenda items before the ABA House of Delegates, roughly the equivalent of Nebraska's unicameral legislature. Joyce Cox, former Texas Bar Association president, formerly of Cameron, is a Texas delegate.

Continuous interview of noted jurists, journalists, lawyers, bureaucrats and related social scientists is televised to this city's crowded hotels and motels by closed circuit TV.

For perhaps 20 special "sessions" of the ABA, work and fun began August 8, even while hundreds of trial attorneys and their families were attending a meeting of the American Trial Lawyers Association. And before, perhaps during this trial group's gathering, law professors, law school deans and other attorneys met in a national commission study of proposed uniform laws.

The overlap, the debate among ABA delegates and the 105-degree heat smoldered Big D downtown with legal viewpoint and distinguished visitors.

U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Burger addressed the ABA House of Delegates and at least two other sessions during this convention, calling for reform in the American penal system, establishment of administrators for over-loaded American courts and better legal education.

ABA itself Tuesday considered a five-year study for a new Code of Ethics for ABA members and, by example, some 300,000 American lawyers.

A newsmen was hard put to find space among all these attorneys, but was well-treated in press sections of the Auditorium and in credentials preparation.

It was easily the spoken word prevailing here, though much concern was evidenced about what effect the written word has on American rights in the courtroom, the street, the political convention and private life. "Access and Reply" was the subject of Daniel's See — 110 — Page 5

Whole Farm Retirement

Farm Bills Affect County

With the last of the old Soil Bank contracts expiring at the end of 1970, Congress and agriculture leaders are debating programs that would divert cropland and possibly help some farmers move to other vocations. Also in question are acreage controls, marketing quotas and direct payments for wheat, feed grains and cotton.

Whatever program is adopted, it will be felt in Milam County where there are an estimated 3,000 family farms.

Most discussed is a proposal to retire whole farms to eliminate the increase in per-acre yields which result when resources formerly used for diverted acres are shifted to land that remains in production on the same farm. This proposal is backed by the American Farm Bureau and several other farm organizations.

House Agriculture Chairman W. R. Poffe has proposed a bill to extend the present Agriculture Act. Administration recommendations are expected to be announced by September 24.

A letter from William C. Black, general counsel for the House Committee on Agriculture explained the proposed bills.

"HR 9909, sponsored by the American Farm Bureau has as its purpose the phasing out of the commodity price support programs over a period of five years, beginning January 1, 1971, the day after the present Food and Agriculture Act of 1955, as extended, expires."

"Under this bill 10 million acres would be retired in each of five years, beginning with the calendar year 1971 and continuing through 1975. There would be no acreage allotments, marketing quotas or direct payments other for land diversion or for certificates for wheat, feed grains or cotton, commencing with calendar year 1975."

"Chairman Poffe's bill, H. R. 12430, will extend the Food and Agriculture Act of 1955, as amended, indefinitely, including the crop-land adjustment program.

"In addition to the Farm Bureau's bills which have been introduced, there have been a number of proposals for retirement of land, in addition to that presently being diverted, which in 1969 will amount to approximately 60.3 million acres under our present feed grains, cotton and wheat programs, which would call for retirement of 50 to 70 million acres."

"These proposals have not been formally introduced although there has been considerable discussion. The estimates of annual cost vary widely. It is generally agreed, however, that a cropland retirement program will not be especially effective in controlling production or raising prices of certain crops, particularly cotton."

"The proponents contend that it is highly desirable to shift some land out of crop use and into grass, trees and other programs rather than annual programs. They contend also that this would aid in the transition of rural persons desirous of changing their vocations."

"The City's new two-hour parking ordinance will go into effect on Saturday, August 16, according to Police Chief John Shearin. The police department has also set a day for vaccination of dogs.

Downtown blocks designated for the two-hour parking limit are marked in four spots along each block.

Miss Esperanza Tamez, 1969 Yoe High graduate, has been hired by Cameron Police Department to patrol the downtown area. Fine for overtime parking will be "not less than 25 cents," according to the ordinance.

The two-hour parking limit will be in force between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. each day, except for Sundays and legal holidays.

Saturday, August 23 has been set for vaccination of dogs for rabies, Chief Shearin said. City dog owners may take their animals to the rear of the Cameron police station between 1 and 3 p.m. that day, get them vaccinated, and also obtain City tags.

The Police Department is planning a concerted effort to pick up untaxed dogs before the fall school term starts.

The voting precinct changes will be effective as of February 1, 1970.

County Commissioners authorized the merging of four rural voting precincts with nearby voting boxes at their meeting Monday in the Milam County Courthouse.

Chamber Committee Issues Statement On Downtown Parking

The Chamber of Commerce Trade Development Committee issued a statement this week on the new two-hour parking ordinance.

Delbert Burdison, chairman of the committee, said some complaints had been made about the limited parking on downtown streets and the committee was issuing the statement to clarify reasons for its request for the ordinance.

"While most people who have tried to shop on a busy Saturday realize the need for this limit, there are some people who have complained about it," the statement said. "We would like to reassure you that we are not trying to make money or run downtown customers to another shopping area."

"The object is to create more parking area for downtown shoppers by eliminating all-day parking in close proximity to the retail stores. It is felt that by creating turnover in the spaces now occupied all day by one car, more people will be able to come to town and find a place to park close to the store they wish to shop in."

"The downtown merchants have been canvassed and the great majority have signed a petition for the creation of the limit. Ample parking space for downtown employers and employees has been left open on various streets."

"We take this means to solicit the help and cooperation of all people who work in the downtown area to help make Cameron a better place to shop."

United Fund Meets For Budget Hearing

The Cameron United Fund budget committee will meet Tuesday, August 19 at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Dana Kestenbaum, chairman of the local United Fund, said that any organization wishing to make a presentation to request funds through the program should be at the meeting at 5 p.m.

The regular United Fund board of directors meeting will be held at 5:30, Kestenbaum said.

Police Chief John Shearin said that City officers had picked up "a good many drunks" but no serious offenses have been committed that could be blamed on the heat.

Air conditioner dealers report "more service calls than we can handle" and said they were selling more air conditioning units this summer than in any summer they could remember.

"I've been in business 18 years," one local dealer said, "and I've never seen anything like it. The extreme heat is causing units to play out twice as fast as they ordinarily would. We have people all over town mad at us but we just can't keep up with all the service calls."

Texas Power and Light Company reports new records are being set for power consumption over the Central Texas system.

Henry Siebman, local TP&L manager, said scattered power failures and, in some cases, low voltage troubles, are being caused by the intense heat.

Trouble comes when conductors become overheated, causing transformers to fail under the overload, Siebman said. "People are adding more and more air conditioning and the transformers can't carry the extra load," he said.

Weak transformers are being changed to larger ones and so far power company servicemen have been able to keep up with calls. No serious power failures have been reported for this area, Siebman said.

'Heat's On' For Law, Servicemen

The ordinary man on the street (with burning feet) and sweating Cameron residents aren't the only ones hoping for relief from the current heat wave, a survey of law officials, air conditioner dealers, and power company shows.

City and County law enforcement officers commented that "a good many drunks" have been picked up this month, indicating that many heat-sufferers try for relief via "a cold one."

Sheriff Carl Black said the County Jail housed a total of 23 prisoners on Sunday, 11 of whom were put in jail Saturday night. A total of 46 prisoners were jailed in August, Black said, although some were carried over from July.

A large proportion of the jailed were charged with drunkenness. Sheriff Black said the heat seems to cause more incidents among drinkers in small taverns, especially when the places are crowded and the temperature goes up.

Building Shift Studied

Library Officers Elected

Cameron Public Library board of directors elected new officers Friday afternoon and in two called meetings discussed foundation problems on the library building at E. 3rd and Milam.

Dr. George Bowman was elected president of the Library Board for the coming year succeeding Don G. Humble. Other officers named were Rev. Wirt Skinner, vice president, Stewart Perkins, treasurer, and Mrs. L. W. Stroup, secretary.

Board members are Miss Maurine House, Frank Luecke and Don Humble. Ex-officio members of the board are Mrs. Jack Tumlinson and Miss Louise Jamison.

At a meeting earlier in the week, Board members were told that the library building, constructed at a cost of $45,000 in 1956, was sinking and shifting on the east side.

Humble said the building architect, David Carnahan and general contractor Coffield Construction Co. had checked the building about 6 months ago and noted shifts in the foundation. At the time Carnahan suggested that they wait about 6 months to determine the changes in the building before making suggestions for correcting the shift.

Slight shifting had been noted on the building's west side shortly after it opened, however that appeared to have corrected.

E. A. Perrin, chairman of the building committee at the time of construction, said this week that he had contacted Carnahan again and another inspection was scheduled with the architect, contractors and consulting engineer.

Perrin said soil tests of the proposed lot were taken by an engineering firm in Waco before construction began.

Police Chief John Shearin said that City officers had picked up "a good many drunks" but no serious offenses have been committed that could be blamed on the heat.

I suppose I could muddle through if I had to but who needs it? With low cost electricity from the Belfalls Electric Co-operative, chicken processing plants do such a neat and clean job of dressing fryers I'd be foolish to try it. With low cost electricity chickens are picked, drawn, inspected, chilled, and boxed in less time than it would take me to catch one. So just call me chicken hearted when it comes to chicken plucking. Send him to me ready for the pan. I'm great with an electric fryer.

Bloodmobile Visit Aug. 26 . . .

Donor Age Limit Raised

Americans in good health can be blood donors now until their 60th birthday instead of the 61st as in the past.

The announcement from the American National Red Cross and the American Association of Blood Banks comes just two weeks before the August 26 Bloodmobile visit in Cameron.

Sister Aloysius, director of the local blood program, said the August 26 visit is very important due to the serious shortage of blood in the regional Red Cross blood center at Waco.

"On Saturday we called the center for O positive blood," Sister Aloysius said, "and there was none for them to send to the hospital here. They are very short on blood."

Cameron's quota for the August 26 Bloodmobile visit is 71 units of blood. At least 96 prospective donors will be needed to produce the quota. Hours for the visit will be 1 to 7 p.m. at Methodist Fellowship Hall.

Dr. T. J. Greenwalt, medical director of the American National Red Cross Blood Program, emphasized that any healthy person can give a pint of blood without worry.

"We have many donors who have given 11, 12 and even 13 gallons of blood without incident," he said. "Most of these are eager and able to continue giving. The change (in age limit) will permit them to do so except in jurisdictions where it is contrary to local regulations."

Blood bank officials said extension of the eligible age limit was in recognition of two facts: first, that the need for blood is increasing at a rate of about 12 percent annually; and second, that thanks to better medical care, better nutrition and other factors, Americans are living longer and also keeping their health and vigor longer than in the past.

Donors 66 years of age or over, under the new policies, may continue to give blood if they obtain the written consent of their personal physician on the day of donation. This applies only to those 66 and over, officials emphasized.

The American National Red Cross and the American Association of Blood Banks together collect and process 90 percent of the more than 6.5 million pints of blood used each year for surgery and therapy in United States hospitals.

Both organizations have blood clearinghouses, permitting blood given locally to be credited to patients in other cities and areas with surplus blood to aid those where it is short.

DIPLOMATIC POUCH

WASHINGTON, D. C. The following letters were recently answered by the Department of State:

OUTER SPACE

Are the plans for the celestial bodies that they will be claimed by the nation that first lands on them, or are they to be left as international territory? Also what are the plans for the use of outer space?

Dear J. B.:

The first nation to land on the moon or on the other celestial bodies will not be able to claim them as their own territory. The question of sovereignty over the moon and other celestial bodies has been definitively settled by the Treaty on Principles Governing the Activities of States in the Exploration and Use of Outer Space, including the Moon and Other Celestial Bodies (The Outer Space Treaty), which entered into force on October 10, 1967. Article II of that Treaty provides:

"Outer Space, including the moon and other celestial bodies, is not subject to national appropriation by claim of sovereignty, by means of use or occupation, or by any other means."

Though guesses could be advanced about the future uses of outer space, we believe that you would receive a more informed reply to your second question from NASA. It is suggested you address your inquiry to: Office of Public Affairs, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Washington, D.C. 20546.

TREATY RECORD

In a recent discussion on Russian and U.S. Treaties, the statement was made that we cannot trust any treaty signed by Russia. Would it be possible to send me a list of all treaties signed by Russia and the United States since World War II? And which party, if any, has broken the treaty? Was there a treaty signed by both parties banning underground atomic testing, and was it broken by the Russians?

A.M.
Florence, S.C.

Enclosed is a list of the bilateral treaties and other agreements in force between the United States and the Soviet Union. The Department has not undertaken to maintain a list of treaties alleged to have been violated. We are enclosing, however, a copy of pages 967 and 968 from the Hearings of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations on the Nuclear Test Ban Treaty, containing a memorandum from the Department of State on the subject of Soviet treaty violation. It refers to a number of important political agreements violated by the Soviet

Mrs. Beard is survived by her husband; a son, Thomas W. Beard Jr. of Groves; a daughter, Mrs. Charles T. Harper of Murfreesboro, Tenn.; two brothers, Jack Cowen of Austin and Gus Cowen of Thorndale; a sister, Mrs. A. Y. Norman of Thorndale; four grandchildren; and a great-granddaughter.

Pallbearers were Raymond Butts, Rufus Conoley, Rufus Alexander, Don Scarborough, Norman Clement and Jim Cowen.

For Cotton Defoliation... Dust Replaced

COLLEGE STATION

This year's cotton crop defoliant and desiccant recommendations are in terms of spray formulations. Dusts have been discontinued.

Fred C. Elliott, cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says dusts have fallen into disfavor because of drift problems. Dew on cotton leaves also is necessary for a dust to be activated, he added.

Sprays can be applied by ground rigs or by airplanes, but Elliott urges growers to stagger applications in the case of large acreages.

"In other words, the application rate of defoliants or desiccants should be at about the same rate as the harvesting machinery will cover the field," he said. "This will avoid some of the greening-up that might occur if the whole acreage is defoliated at one time."

Harvest and chemicals are of two general types—defoliants and desiccants.

Defoliants prepare cotton for machine picking. There are chlorate and organophosphorus types. In 1968, there were 6,344 cotton picking machines operated in 93 Texas counties. They harvested 25 percent of the crop.

Desiccants prepare cotton for machine stripping. Of these, arsenic acid and Paraquat are the most common kinds.

During the 1968 cotton season, 39,028 strippers in 165 counties stripped 75 percent of the Texas crop.

Mail Claims For Drug Refunds By Saturday

AUSTIN

Attorney General Crawford C. Martin reminded Texans today that August 16, 1969, is the deadline for mailing refund claims on broad spectrum antibiotics for which they were overcharged during the years 1964 through 1966.

That is the deadline set by the federal court for individuals to file claims for a share of the $100 million settlement offered by five drug manufacturers after multiple civil antitrust actions were filed against them by Texas and other states.

Martin said the procedure for filing consumer claims was the result of an order issued by the U. S. District Court in New York. The forms for the refund claims may be picked up at the County Clerk's office in each county courthouse.

If a person fails to file a claim, it will constitute authorization to use the money recovered in his behalf for the benefit of all consumers in a manner directed by the federal court.

The notarized claims must be mailed to the Clerk, United States District Court, P. O. Box 745, Bronx, New York 10451.

Drugs involved in the settlement are Aureomycin, Terramycin, Achromycin, Mylectin, Panalba, Panmycin, Polycycline, Steclin, Tetracyclin and Tetrax.

Preston J. Blaseinz, 76, of Clarkston, died Friday, August 8 in the Veterans Hospital in Waco.

Mr. Blaseinz was a veteran of World War I. While he was in France he was shell shocked and because of the injury had spent the rest of his life in Veteran hospitals except for a few brief visits home.

He volunteered for service in the Army at the age of 21, and was the owner of the Blaseinz farm in Clarkston. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Rev. Geary McManus officiated at the funeral service held Sunday afternoon at the Green Funeral Home chapel in Rosebud. Burial was in the Little River Cemetery.

Mr. Blaseinz was a bachelor and is survived by one sister, Mrs. C. S. Robbins of Clarkston; one brother, Alfred Blaseinz of Dallas; and a number of nieces and nephews.

Pallbearers were Harvey Yoe, Jack Franklin, Roy Lee Franklin, Clarence Franklin, C. D. McCleary, George Dodd, Vernon Nicholson, and John Blaseinz.

Choose Desk To Mix With Other Furniture

When shopping for a desk, look for one that will be a good mixer with other furnishings in living room, bedroom or study—wherever it will be used.

And keep a weather-eye out for practical features as well as good looks, reminds Bonny Lay, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist.

She says the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers reports it is a vintage year for interesting, practical desk designs.

From the swiftest modern in wood and metal, trestle styles, pedestals, kneeholes, drop fronts, fall fronts, to table desks—authentic reproductions of Early American and traditional from Queen Anne, Louis XV to Georgian—they give purpose to a setting.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vera Sanford
Fish and wildlife are in the spotlight as never before. Due to the demand for recreation today, game laws are being studied, and the various species of game and fish and to have our favorite outdoor sports being accelerated.

Our population grows, available land is shrinking. This means hunters concentrated on a few acres. Because of this supply demand, biologists are working overtime to increase the yield of fish and wildlife per acre of habitat.

It has been done quite successfully in farming and there is no reason it can't be accomplished with outdoor subjects. Right now it is a matter of hitting the right formula.

On land that can carry more wildlife, for example, studies are being made, with various imported exotics. The number of animals like the blackbuck antelope, Mountain sheep and axis deer is growing each year, and there is much work being done with imported game birds.

With native birds and animals, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is spending up its research. One need is more wildlife management areas. The department hopes to obtain several core areas "of sufficient size to permit needed wildlife research and management studies in each major ecological region of the state."

One need is a management area in the Trans-Pecos region to study the pronghorn antelope.

In a report on the subject, the pointed out that "historically the Parks and Wildlife Department pronghorn antelope roamed the uncounted thousands. However, entire western half of Texas in fencing of the land and indiscriminate and wasteful hunting took a heavy toll and the antelope herds were reduced to an all-time low of 2,000 head in 1920."

Through informed game management and restocking, the herds were rebuilt by 12,000 head by 1960. Since then, increased farming, sheep ranching, disease and adverse weather have caused a reduction in the numbers to 9,000 head in 1966.

Without disease studies and informed range and farm management programs to point the way, the pronghorn antelope is destined to become a rare animal in Texas.

Deer have been studied through extensive trapping programs, and now transmitter radios are being utilized to study the deer's every-day habits.

A banding program and collection of wings from killed birds are being used to study the habits of mourning doves, just as bands have been used to follow the flight of ducks.

Shrimp migration habits are being scrutinized by the use of shrimp stained bright colors. Plastic streamers also are being affixed to saltwater species, to study their habits and migration tendencies.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

WIFE VERSUS PARENTS

If a bridegroom is lucky, his bride and his parents will work out their new relationship in sweet peace and harmony. But what if they don't—and he is "in the middle"? Where do his duties lie?

By and large, the law says his wife comes first. Take this case: A man was hailed into court by his wife for non-support. In his defense, he explained:

"I give every nickel I make to my elderly parents. I just feel they need the money more than we do." But the court decided this was no excuse, and ordered him to start taking care of his wife. The judge said she had first claim on his earnings.

A similar principle applies to the family domicile. A man accused his wife of desertion, after she walked out on him. But in court, she pointed out that she had good reason for leaving: her husband allowed his mother not only to live with them but also to run the household with an iron hand.

Ruling in the wife's favor, the court said: "When a man marries and founds a new family, he assumes new duties. When these conflict with his former ties, they must be held paramount. The very existence of the family depends on this principle. Whatever his filial obligations may be, a man may not bring his mother to reside in his new home. That place belongs to the wife."

Nevertheless, the law does not insist on total estrangement of a husband from his parents.

In another case, a man brought his ailing, elderly mother into his home—partly for the sake of sentiment, partly for the sake of economy. However, it was his wife, not his mother, who had full charge of managing the household.

File Water Claim By September 1

AUSTIN
State Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale urged all landowners who have access to a stream or river on their property to record their claim on or before September 1. The recording deadline under the Water Rights Adjudication Act of 1967 is about two weeks away and those who have access should secure this claim, even though they may never use it, just as a safety precaution.
There is no cost for recording this claim.
Kubiak urged all land owners to secure the claim as it makes the land more valuable in future years with this water claim recorded.
Failure to timely record the claim will "extinguish and bar" the claim of water right for irrigation, according to Section 4 of the Adjudication Act. All affected water users who have not already filed their claim are urged to do so immediately.
Further information and forms for recording claims under the Water Rights Adjudication Act may be obtained from the Texas Water Rights Commission, P. O. Box 12396, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711. Rep. Kubiak stated.

By Alva E. Sanders
Milam County cotton farmers taking part in the 1969 upland cotton program will soon begin getting final program payments.
Payments will represent the price-support payment to growers who signed up and then met the applicable provisions of the program. The price-support payment rate to program cooperators is 14.73 cents per pound.
This payment is in addition to the price-support loan, and is the amount necessary in addition to the loan to provide producers at least 65 percent of parity. Payment is made to cooperators on acreage planted within the domestic allotment which is 65 percent of the total farm allotment.
Participating producers on small cotton farms — with allotments of 10 acres or less or projected production of 3,600 pounds or less — could receive half of a special small farm payment in advance at program sign-up last spring. In cases where an advance payment was made, the payment now available represents the balance due plus the regular price support payment.
Planting cotton was not an eligibility requirement to receive the special small farm payment, which is based on a total of 11.26 cents per pound on the projected yield of 35 percent of the farm's effective allotment.
Office personnel are being assisted by automatic date processing in preparing farm payments. Each payment draft to producers will be accompanied by a computer-prepared statement that provides a breakdown of factor considered in arriving at the payments.

County Agent's Notes . . .

Hot Days Cause Fish Die - Off

By J. D. Moore
Hot, windless days of August and September are the times pond owners should watch ponds for summer die-off fish.
Oxygen depletion usually is the major cause for fish die-off and is due to dying and rapid decay of water weeds and other organic substances when the weather is hot and still. All animal life in a pond uses oxygen 24 hours a day, but oxygen is replaced by surface absorption from air and release from microscopic plants only during hours of sunlight.
Oxygen is lowest in ponds at daybreak. If it is dangerously low, fish will come to the surface early in the morning and gasp for air.
To relieve the oxygen shortage, the county agent suggests broadcasting from 50 to 100 lbs. of superphosphate per surface acre over the pond. This buffers toxic effects of carbon dioxide and ammonia and stimulates microscopic plants to produce more oxygen. If treated soon after fish show distress, the situation is usually relieved within an hour.
Using outboard motors to stir up the water and replenish the oxygen supply is often recommended for small ponds. If a pump is available, water can be pumped from the bottom and sprayed back on the surface.
Suffocation from oxygen is not the only cause of fish die-off. Careless use of agricultural chemicals can also cause a lot of trouble. Therefore, possible contamination of fish ponds should be considered before chemicals are used.

SWCD NEWS

Cooperators of the Little River-San Gabriel Soil & Water Conservation District use several different facilities to water livestock. Water facilities should be planned for the best location to obtain distribution of grazing. Livestock will overgraze grass close to the available water. A farm pond can usually be located near the center of a pasture or the opposite side of the pasture from any existing water supply.
As a general rule your livestock shouldn't have to travel more than one-fourth mile to water. When proper locations cannot be found for the water facilities then salting areas can be located opposite and away from the water.

source. Livestock will graze pasture grass more uniformly when they go from a salting area to a later source.

A farm pond, well, pump and trough, well, windmill and trough, flowing springs or permanent or temporary water in creeks and rivers are sources of water that can be used to better manage pastures and grass.

Permanent or temporary water facilities can be provided in small grain fields where normally no water source is available. Installing a temporary water line and trough from a well to a temporary grazing field can be removed when not needed.

Keeping livestock confined to small grain fields by providing available water can provide a rest for the permanent pasture grass.

Maybe A Pleasure . .

One of these days, Cameron will need to consider finishing the successful start of the 1966 Cameron Industrial Foundation fund drive, which that year, was stopped at about $66,000.

That seemed, at the time adequate financing to start a success story, by now, fast becoming an example for small-city industrial foundations anywhere.

A drive of another $30,000 plus will complete the initial $100,000 goal, and strengthen the capital position of CIF, Inc., which has assisted in location or establishment of three industries in little more than a year.

About 40 acres have been purchased, and other acreage is under option, in the CIF, Inc., Industrial Park now in Northwest Cameron.

It is quite likely new prospects will continue to visit Cameron. The right land or the proper improvement or the adequate assist in financing at the right time will keep momentum of an industrial foundation being held as an example of competence, drive and service.

It should be no surprise, and possibly a pleasure, for this community to continue to the $100,000 goal which three years ago seemed impossible, but now seems justified by the obvious development of land, improvements, industry and jobs itself in Cameron Industrial Park.

Congrats, Commissioners . . .

We congratulate the County Commissioners Court for applying the "under 50" rule to eliminate voting boxes which attract fewer than that minimum figure.

For years, Milam County maintained voting boxes which were voting marginal numbers, though certainly a convenience to voters in those areas.

But candidates were paying for this apparent luxury in the primaries, a cost that may have, over the years, kept qualified candidates from paying the inordinate filing fee, 4 percent of the county officials' four-year salary.

General election costs of precinct judges and materials are paid by the County.

Enough good roads, particularly the hard-topped farm-to-market system maintained by the state, allow easy access to voting boxes a few miles away.

It is time that every means be considered for reducing election costs and providing adequate salaries, always a point of controversy, which, when melded, assure better public service in more highly qualified public officials.

This is a step in that direction.

Blinn College Adds A Computer Course, Will Add Two Dorms

Blinn College will offer computer science courses for the first time this fall. The Brenham college has also announced approval of a $529,000 federal loan for construction of two dormitories.

This fall an introduction to computer science course will be offered and will be a prerequisite to any more advanced computer courses.

During the spring of 1970, a course in computer programming will be offered and in the 1970-71 school year, more complex computer programming courses will be added to Blinn's curriculum.

The Housing and Urban Development private loan will be used to construct two dormitories to house 68 women and 104 men students. These additions will bring the campus housing facilities for students to 757.

Blinn President James H. Atkinson said the new dorms will be ready for occupancy by September, 1970.

In other college news, Atkinson announced that with the addition of ten new members to the Blinn faculty, the college will have 87 degree people on campus. Six of the new faculty members are additional while four are replacements.

Water Leaders Hopeful; Will Try Again In 1971

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Water development leaders already are talking about another try with the $3.5 billion water bond authorization in the wake of last week's constitutional amendments elections.

Water bonds — to finance the state's share of the $9 billion Texas water plan — were defeated by only a few thousand votes out of some 700,000 cast.

Meanwhile, say water experts, the master plan is not dead. Preliminary negotiations for out-of-state water can continue, and another vote can be scheduled on the bonds in 1971. Hopefully by then, some of the major objections will be resolved.

Texas, in the amendments election, solved one of the state's pressing problems, for the time being at any rate. They voted nearly two-to-one in favor of raising the welfare aid ceiling $20 million a year, to $80 million. This will get aid to families with dependent children (AFDC) payments back to par, and stave off any more cuts in the near future.

Voters also favored issuing $200 million more in college student loan bonds to continue the Texas Opportunity Plan of aid to needy youngsters bent on higher education.

Elimination of deadwood from the state constitution met strong favor. So did payments to survivors of volunteer firemen, reserve or auxiliary police and other state or local government employees killed in line of hazardous duty.

On the other hand, voters were antagonistic toward four other proposed amendments on the August 5 ballot.

They overwhelmingly rejected pay raises for state legislators and annual sessions of the legislature. They disapproved property tax exemptions for non-profit water supply corporations by a fairly strong margin and narrowly rejected lifting the constitutional interest rate ceilings on state bonds.

Defeat of the annual sessions amendment put an end to hopes of many legislators that another single-year, no-tax state budget can be passed in the current special session and accepted by Gov. Preston Smith.

TAX BILL TO SENATE

Now it's the Senate's week to wrestle with the tax bill.

House passed its $341 million version of revenue raising to balance a biennial budget and sent it across the rotunda. From comments, it is an overstatement to say senators don't like it, but hearings are under way in an attempt to come up with an acceptable compromise—and that won't be easy.

Here is what the House bill does (all levies effective January 1):

Raises the sales tax rate from three to 3.5 per cent.

Boosts the cigarette tax five cents a pack, to 16 cents.

Launches a new 3.5 per cent tax on telephone and telegraph, auto repairs, appliance (except washing machines, dryers and refrigerators) and jewelry repairs, parking, laundry and dry-cleaning (except self-service coin-operated) and professional entertainment services. (Included in the latter would be admission charges to professional athletic contests, night clubs, dance halls, amusement parks and science attractions.)

Levies a 10 cent transactions tax on each sale or purchase of stocks, bonds, warrants and other securities, with few exceptions.

Cuts the gross receipts tax on telephone and telegraph companies from 2.5 per cent to 1.9 per cent (which would reduce the industry's direct taxes about $5.7 million per biennial fiscal period).

City officials are angry because, while new sales and services taxes would be levied at 4.5 per cent rate in those municipalities which levy local option sales tax, they would get none of added revenue.

One thing seems certain: what comes out of the Senate is unlikely to bear much resemblance to what came over from the House.

LOAN BONDS SOLD

First $14 million in new college student loan fund bonds were sold here last week (Aug. 7).

First National City Bank of New York and Associates was successful bidder at a net effective interest rate of 5.4162 per cent. Announcement came from Tom Sealy of Midland, chairman of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System Board administrators the program.

Bonds will be formally authorized and awarded to the purchaser at the meeting of the Coordinating Board on September 2. Funds will be available for fall semester loans. About 36,000 needy Texas resident students have benefitted from a total of nearly 100,000 loans since the program went into operation in 1966.

HOSPITAL AID CUT LOOMS

Texas hospitals got warning from Texas health authorities that federal building funds may be sharply curtailed under White House budget proposals.

Twenty-eight Texas applicants for Hill-Burton hospital construction aid were notified that the State Health Department received a tentative allocation indicating a "drastic reduction" in U. S. money for the state.

Tentative allotment is reportedly about $2.1 million for general construction and $629,000 for modernization of Texas hospitals in 1970. About $1 million would go to public health centers, according to health officials who said they hope Congress will raise White House recommendations. About $8 million was allotted Texas for general construction this year and $2 million for modernization.

FOOD—MEDICAL GRANT

A $474,000 emergency food and medical services grant has been awarded Texas Office of Economic Opportunity and approved by Governor Smith.

Program will start Sept. 1 to supplement the existing commodity distribution program for 71,000 Texas families. It will operate in 26 counties with highest percentage of poor. Outreach, basic food stuffs and medical services will be used to counteract conditions of starvation and malnutrition among poor.

The counties that will benefit directly include Milam County.

NEMATODE DETECTION LAB

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service will operate a testing lab to help in the fight against plant parasitic nematodes. Farmers and homeowners by submitting a soil sample to the lab for testing can get needed information on treatment and control recommendations. Local county agents will provide sample shipping containers and information on how to take and mail samples.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

Because ants had gotten into it, somebody threw a picnic lunch wrapped in a newspaper out of his car near my Johnson grass farm out here yesterday — you'd think that with man's vast technological skill he could make an ant-proof newspaper but check any newspaper, the Herald included, and you'll see it's no more ant-proof than a mosquito net — and I shook the lunch and the ants out and brought the paper home to read.

According to an article I ran into immediately between two mustard stains, a professor has worked out an idea for handling student unrest on college campuses this coming year.

"If you look closely behind the campus happenings," he said, "you'll find the kids are saying they want to actually get involved in some of the problems they're facing after they leave the academic world," so he has come up with a plan to let college students take off from classes a few months at a time and work with farmers and other rural people who he says are for the most part living below the poverty level. He proposes that they teach the farmers how to produce more, how to market it more intelligently, how to eat a more balanced meal, etc.

I am interested in this program. I've got a fence around my pasture out here that's so far below the poverty level I figure it'll take the riot leaders from at least 14 colleges to fix. Another 10 or 12 could vent their wrath on my barn, but I'd like to specify rioters specializing in Engineering because the first thing an ordinary English major would do is pull the props out on the north side, which is the direction it's leaning in, at a great loss not only to Literature but to my barn.

As for teaching me how to market my produce and eat a balanced meal, I won't want to impose on these college kids, they may not be that mad. If they'll handle the producing end of the job and get the stuff grown, gathered and loaded and into town, I'll take over and handle the marketing and buying of a balanced meal.

I never dreamed I had the answer to college rioting right here under foot.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

New 'Implied Consent' Law Gives Weapon To Combat Drunk Drivers

AUSTIN — Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today that the State's new implied consent law which becomes effective September 1, 1969, gives law enforcement a much needed weapon to combat drunk drivers.

"Depending on area, drinking drivers figure in 40 to 50 percent of the fatal rural traffic accidents in Texas," Speir said. "This is especially significant when you consider that traffic mishaps claimed 3,481 lives in the state last year."

Under terms of this law, a motorist is "deemed to have given consent" to a breath test if arrested for any alleged offense arising out of his actual operation or physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

If the suspect refuses the breath test, the officer certifies this fact in an affidavit, together with his probable cause for stopping the person, to the Department of Public Safety. This affidavit, when it reaches the DPS, forms the basis for a petition filed by the Department in the corporation or justice court of the county of residence of the person refusing the test to determine if the officer had probable cause for thinking the driver was intoxicated.

Should the judge find the officer had probable cause to arrest the person for driving while intoxicated, the Department of Public Safety, acting on the court's finding and the officer's sworn statement that the subject refused the test, suspends the subject's driver license for the period set by the law.

Poage Says Tax Bill Was Necessary To Slow Down Inflation

"I think the bill reduced the depletion allowance for oil more than it should have," Poage said. "While our District produces no substantial amount of oil, the oil industry does pay some 42 percent of the costs of running our Congress."

Cong. W. R. Poage viewed the Tax Reform Bill passed by the House in Washington with mixed emotions, according to his weekly newsletter. He called some of the changes "good" and others "undesirable."

State government and State taxes are going higher all the time. It is important to everyone in Texas to maintain a profitable oil industry.

Poage said the bill attempts to discourage the sale of municipal bonds at the lowest possible interest rate. He said his motion to send the bill back to the Committee "in an effort to correct these items" failed.

Poage said the exemption from paying taxes for lowest income groups "may not be an unmixed blessing as I think it is desirable for everyone to feel that he is directly contributing to the support of his government."

In conclusion the Congressman said he voted for the bill since, in his view, "our whole economy will be lost if we do not take immediate steps to slow down inflation."

judge. The suspension, which may run for as much as one year, is subject to appeal to a higher court. The implied consent law allows the person detained the right to have a test of his blood alcohol taken by his own physician, qualified technician, chemist or registered professional nurse, if taken within two hours after his arrest.

The law also places the responsibility with the Texas Department of Public Safety to certify breath testing equipment and persons authorized to administer breath tests.

"With the advent of the new law, we hope to obtain at least one breath testing instrument for each county, and plan to train additional personnel in their operation," Speir noted.

4-H NEWS -

By Fred Schuetze

During the time I have spent in Milam County, I have felt that something is needed to hold older youth in 4-H as well as getting more of the older youth in the county into 4-H Club work. At county camp I discussed this with the older 4-H'ers present to see what they thought of the idea. It was accepted and wanted by all.

I ran a survey, sending a questionnaire to all 4-H members in Milam county 13 years of age and older, to see what they thought of the idea. Most of the questionnaires have been returned and this is what they state:

1) These older 4-H'ers in Milam county want a senior member 4-H club. 2) They believe that a club such as this will hold older 4-H members. 3) They would like to meet bi-monthly. 4) They believe this should be a county club involving all older 4-H'ers. 5) They believe this will attract older youth to 4-H work.

Plans are now being made for the organization of this club and it will be done in September when all the other clubs are re-organized.

STATE 4-H HORSE SHOW

The State 4-H Horse Show will be held August 14, 15, 16, in Sweetwater, Murray and Martha Lynn McDermott, both of Cameron, are making final arrangements to attend this event. They will compete in the following events: Halter, Western Pleasure, and Reining.

They will be accompanied to the State Horse Show by Dr. and Mrs. Lyle McDermott and the assistant county agent.

CLUB RE-ORGANIZATION

In September all 4-H Clubs in Milam will start their regular monthly meetings. It is very important that all 4-H'ers attend their local club meetings so programs can be planned and started. Let's make this a real good 4-H year.

It is very important that all clubs elect new officers and plan their yearly programs at their first meeting so we can put out our 4-H Yearbook.

House Tax Bill 'Unacceptable' To Rep. Kubiak

Rep. Dan Kubiak has called the tax package passed by the House last week "unacceptable" and "unbalanced." The Senate began debate Monday morning on the proposed tax program.

In his weekly report from Austin, Kubiak said he hoped the Senate will heavily amend the bill.

"There are no direct corporate taxes," Kubiak said, "with all of the $328 million burden placed directly on the consumer."

He added that there may be a legal question on whether the state can charge a 3.5 cent sales tax on services outside a city while charging 4.5 cents for the same service in cities which have a city sales tax.

The tax bill would raise the state sales tax from 3 to 3 1/2 percent and extend it to cover telephones, laundry, dry cleaning, repairs, parking, nightclubs and professional sporting events. The bill would also put another five cent tax on cigarettes, bringing that total to 16 cents per pack.

"This plan is not acceptable," Kubiak said, "and it does seem that spending should be cut and taxation reduced considerably."

"There are 15 to 20 other avenues which could provide this additional money and not one was even considered," he said. "Seven bills died in committee because of the pressure applied by the House leadership."

Thursday Picnic Ends Head Start

A picnic climaxed the "most successful Head Start program yet" conducted at Rogers Public Schools as 300 children, parents, workers, and friends gathered for the Thursday evening event.

This summer Holland and Rogers combined their children for the Head Start program with a total enrollment of 83. Certificates were awarded by Darwin Shwertner, director of the summer program.

Head Start children were taken on field trips in Rogers to the postoffice, bank, firestation, and also on trips to Temple. The big event of the summer was a trip to Houston to see the circus.

Enrichment activities included science, math, social studies, library, and language interpretation. Art and music were enjoyed by the children daily.

The professional staff working with Shwertner were: Mrs. Ruby Lee Gray and Mrs. Betty Ray Wendler of Holland, Mrs. Ernestine Powell and Mrs. Ada Jean Cowen of Rogers, and Mrs. Janice Jackson, Rogers school nurse.

Many parents and others contributed food and assistance of various kinds. "It was truly a two-community enterprise in every way," Supt. B. F. Harbour said.

Two Men Sentenced In District Court

Alonzo Ellison Jr. of Cameron was sentenced to one year in the Milam County Jail following his conviction on July 29 for driving while intoxicated - subsequent offense.

Judge W. C. Wallace assessed the punishment in Tuesday's District Court. Ellison will serve the sentence on weekends until he has accumulated sufficient time to make up one year, according to County Atty. John B. Henderson Jr.

Also in District Court on August 5, Donald Ray Wilcox of Cameron pleaded guilty to the offense of burglary and was assessed a three-year sentence in the Texas Department of Corrections. He pleaded guilty to the offense of breaking and entering the Ebony Club in Cameron on July 5, 1969, Henderson said.

Watson Expects 'Vastly Different' Senate Tax Bill

A tax bill "vastly different" from those recommended by the Texas House and Gov. Preston Smith is expected to come from the Senate, according to State Sen. Murray Watson.

"Many Senators desire to place the tax load on business, others on the consumers," Watson reported this week. "I would hope that the measure would not place the burden too heavily on any one source or segment of our economy."

"Regardless of where it is placed, the consumer, or man on the street, is the one who pays the bill in the end," Watson said.

The tax bill will probably be written in a ten man conference committee and returned to the two houses during the last week of the called session, Watson added.

Watson said in an earlier report that he had no other alternative but to vote for measures to raise the money to maintain the state government.

"I cannot - I will not - vote to appropriate money on the one hand," he stated, "then abandon my responsibility to levy the taxes necessary to pay the bill when it becomes due."

Watson said he was "disappointed" by the failure of the Senate-passed tax bill to include funds for construction of a regional headquarters for the Department of Public Safety in Waco. He said the bill also contained inadequate funds for the Mexia State School.

TV dinner? Any range will do.

But for the gourmet touch, you need a gas range!

A gas range offers the precise heat control and instant response good cooks demand. Instant on, instant off, and an infinite variety of heat selections in between... not just a few pre-set push-buttons. Plus a self-cleaning oven that ends scrubbing and scraping forever... for just pennies a cleaning!

Now. The gas self-cleaning oven. For people who like to cook. Period.

A Closer Walk With God Will Lead You Right Straight to Church

John, the last prophet of the Bible, dreamed of a place where there would be no night. There is such a place. We live in an X-ray world. While we may not be conscious of it, a light is forever falling upon us. God's light falls upon this man. Brother, your could not make it alone! We must have Him. How foolish of anyone to try to walk in darkness... to walk alone. Why, you can't do it. Even the way to church is lighted with His presence when you head that way. God watches over His children, and doesn't that make you glad? Look at the friendly, ever watchful eye of God pictured on our one dollar bill. He is watching over the destinies of our America. He will guide the steps of His children, if they allow Him... will you?

"Oh, Come, Let Us Sing Unto The Lord,"—For There Is No Variableness In God's Cause Nor In His Justice . . . Then Come, Let Us Attend Our Church Or Synagogue This Week . . . This Word Of Invitation From Sponsors Of This Spiritual Values Page.
